

Few Words About My Alma Mater...!!!

Indeed I am very obliged to all the faculty members of well-reputed Dr. D. Y. Patil College of Agricultural Engineering and Technology, Talsande in the field of Agricultural Sciences. The buildings, teachers, and the many challenges I faced shaped the overall meaning of what an alma mater entails. I learned many life lessons and attained many skills which are beneficial to my wellbeing and country. My alma mater is not only a technical school that equips students with the various skills but also an institution that provides students with values and social ethics of society. Being a proud alumnus I must say this institution produces successful Individuals and provides students with the right and profound education.

I am thankful to Dr. Sanjay Patil Sir, Chairman, DYP Group for his support and a great initiative for quality education in agricultural sciences. Also, thankful to Shri. Ruturaj Patil, Trustee, DYP Group, and MLA Kolhapur-South for his constant efforts to develop world-class educational facilities at Talsande campus and to provide global exposure to students.

I am grateful to all my teachers who taught me many more things apart from the course curriculum which are proved to be very helpful in my journey all about. I am indebted to my beloved teacher Prof. S. B. Patil, Prof. K. D. Jadhav, Prof. P. D. Ukey, and Prof. A. B. Gatade for their valuable guidance and motivation throughout my college days at DYPCAET. I would like to extend my special thanks to Prof. S. B. Patil who has encouraged me at different turning points of my career to date.

My heartily wishes to DYPCAET for many more achievements in the upcoming days...!!!

Yours Sincerely,

Shivanand S. Shirkole, PhD

(2004-2008 Batch, Roll No. EK-83/2004)

Assistant Professor, Department of Food Engineering and Technology,

Institute of Chemical Technology Mumbai – IOC Odisha Campus, Bhubaneshwar, INDIA.

Assistant Editor, Drying Technology – An International Journal, Taylor & Francis Group.